Dearest Friend Ruthie,
After all these years of our friendship I have never quarrelled and I hope we never will. (don't you?) I have enjoyed walking to school and always with friends & pal
Gertie.
Best of luck
for you
Dorothy

Good luck

"Thanks to the Yanks"

Now, foreboding gone and joy returned, we have the privilege of welcoming you home. You have all served with distinction. Some never saw a battle; many have died in battle with you whose nicknames you had hardly time to learn. To all of you we give a warmly extended thanks.

"Soldier, What Did You See?"

By DON BLANDING

What did you see, Soldier? What did you see at war?
I saw such glory and horror as I've never seen before.
I saw men's hearts burned naked in red crucibles of pain.
I saw such godlike courage as I'll never see again.

What did you hear, Soldier? What did you hear at war?
I heard the prayers on lips of men who never prayed before.
I heard men tell their very souls, confessing each dark stain.
I heard men speak the sacred things they will not speak again.

What did you eat, Soldier? What did you eat at war?
I ate the sour bread of fear, the acrid salt of gore.
My lips were burned with wine and hate, the scalding drink of Cain.
My tongue has known a bitter taste I would not taste again.

What did you think, Soldier? What did you think at war?
I thought, how strange we have not learned from wars that raged before,
Except new ways of killing, new multiples of pain.
Is all the blood that men has shed but blood shed all in vain?

What did you learn, Soldier? What did you learn at war?
I learned that we must learn sometime what was not learned before;
That victories won on battlefields are victories won in vain
Unless in peace we kill the germs that breed new wars again.

What did you pray, Soldier? What did you pray at war?
I prayed that we might do the thing we have not done before;
That we might mobilize for peace . . . nor mobilize in vain,
Lest Christ and man be forced to climb stark Calvary again.

Our Superintendent K. D. Waldo

"Let's talk it over." This simple statement and a kind smile convey much to students—an assurance of understanding and wise judgment—for these words come from Karl D. Waldo, superintendent of east side schools.

The progress of East High reflects the wisdom of our superintendent. Because of the splendid work he is doing, he is admired and respected by all East High students, alumni, and faculty.

The Board of Education

STANDING—Clifton F. Simmons; J. A. Brandt; Walter Scott; George L. Thon; Clifford I. Johnson.

SEATED—William Levedahl; Nicholas A. Hermes; Olney C. Allen, President; Edna M. Rollins, Secretary; Fred Klebe. ABSENT—T. E. McKnight.

We may not be personally acquainted with each member of the school board but we realize the debt we owe them. They have ably assisted Mr. Waldo, Mr. Walters, and the faculty in making our four years at East High beneficial.

O. V. Walters

Our Principal O. V. Walters

Did you meet him when you registered at high school, or did your acquaintance begin the time you explained to him that you weren't really late for class and so would he do something about that seventy-three? When you met him, you realized that he was a friend you could count on.

Maybe the first time you really appreciated him was when you were in a very dark, gray fog wondering what type of course you should take. An interview with "O. V." dissolved the haze and left you with a complete four year program. Or was it your first Auroran assignment that sent you to his office for information? If so, you'll recall that he had the facts ready and waiting, so clearly stated that you had no difficulty writing the story. Or it may be that a man-to-man talk with Mr. Walters cured that case of wanderlust or spring fever.

It will be hard for us to picture East High without Mr. Walters. He will be leaving E.H.S. at the end of this school year to join his family in Tucson, Arizona, because of the health of his younger son, David.

The school and the community will miss him. Mr. Walters came to Aurora on July 18, 1928, as principal of East High and remained at that post longer than any other principal in the history of Aurora schools.

No East High student will ever forget his motto: "Do the thing you are supposed to do at the time you are supposed to do it." Yes, when Mr. Walters leaves, part of the tradition of East High will go with him.

Goodbye, Mr. Walters, we know how much you will miss East High and we hope you realize how much East High will miss you. May God be with you.

Dean of Girls

The effervescent joy of living and the meaning of youth are strongly shown in all the achievements of Miss Veronica O'Neil, Dean of Girls.

She is interested in knowing student views and ready to consider them. She is approachable for any discussion of problems, complaints, or suggestions.

Going out of her way to do some helpful thing for her girls is nothing unusual for Miss O'Neil.

Student Council

Democracy rings true in East High. Her youths have a governing organization which continually makes decisions for the betterment of the atmosphere, safety, and education of the students of "Ye Ol' Alma Mater."

This organization is known as the Student Council. The above officers, chosen by the student body, are Carol Metzler, secretary—John Kuk, vice-president—James Neil, president.

Dean of Boys

The age-old conflict between youth and the authority of elders never worries Jay L. Hunter. Generally he allows students to assume as much responsibility as they show themselves capable of taking. He develops leadership and initiative in extra-curricular activities.

He is always on hand to advise, to supervise, and to intervene when he deems it necessary.

Mildred Comet

"Miss Comet, will you please write a pass for me?" "Miss Comet, will you please—"

Dozens of such queries are addressed to Miss Mildred Comet, secretary to Mr. Walters, during an average day in the East High School office. It seems that East High students and teachers continually have questions which they must address to Miss Comet.

There's no thrill or glamor to these routine jobs, but Miss Comet handles them efficiently.

They check absences, answer telephone calls, keep records, and do other miscellaneous jobs.

"Mr. Waldo is in now if you wish to see him." That Auroran purchase order will be ready by next period.

These are some of the replies that you might receive if you have business to do with Miss Edna Rollins, secretary to Mr. Waldo and the Board of Education.

Efficiency and friendliness characterize Miss Rollins, whose job is very important to East High's school system.

Parent-Teacher Association

Forty-nine years ago! Yes, on February 17, 1897, a meeting was held of the parents and the teachers of the East High students. This same Parent-Teacher Association has been working ever since and is a success not only in bettering the education of youth in the school but also in the home.

But Not Forgotten

In the year '42" we invaded East High as a scraunchy, ill-at-ease group of fellows and girls called "Freshies." The first few days were not too happy for us; we slithered down side halls in order not to become "Chief Lipstick-in-the-Faces" and breathed easily only under the protecting scowl of an adult, known as a teacher. But now we are Seniors; the hall is our gossip exchange center and the class room our main worry, instead of a haven from upper classmen. Yes—the year is "46" and now we Seniors are strictly "strictly." We either strut from class to class with that "Oh, I'm so bored" look, or glide heavenly among lower classmen.

Now with this juggling of classes, this last fret of credits; we settled down to our last year among familiar friends and surroundings. Yes, that was to be our last, our best year of regular schooling, a social and academic year to remember.

Thanksgiving day game! Remember? Who could forget that game of games which was a super climax to a less than average season! Old Man Cold Weather also reviewed this annual classic and made us slightly uncomfortable with below zero weather. Captain Mode and his team can really be proud of carrying on this game in true East High tradition, winning at last the coveted Chamber of Commerce trophy after three successive yearly victories over West! Coach Maze deserves our praise for outfitting the team with 'linsey-wolseys,' gloves, and tennis shoes which enabled our team to defend its lead in spite of the intense cold. 6-0 was the final score and we, the underdogs, were on top!

The Student Council really came through this semester with three top notch programs in Ye Olde Auditorium during third hour. Trainer Leon Smith put his dog, Suki, through some very difficult tricks and also showed us a colored film about his trained chimpanzees. Later, when Otto Schacht sang for us, we found that we actually liked classical music! He sang "The Lord's Prayer" and, at his request, there was no applause but complete silence as the program ended. Still later this semester, Glen Morris gave demonstrations on the part radio plays in aviation. That day we had a tough time getting off the beam for fourth hour classes.

The event of the season for us came up with the curtain on December 6th as "Kind Lady" unfolded. Unusual and different was the drama in which a wealthy English lady was duped by scoundrels who took advantage of her kindness. Along with the rummage sale, this play really boosted our financial status.

Great excitement ran through our ranks when we were told that Lt. Wittaker, Captain Eddie Rickenbacker's fellow raft survivor, was to be a speaker in a special convo given by the Boys' Club. When he told his story on that well remembered Wednesday A. M., we were very impressed with his religious fervor and humble attitude. But we were a bit disappointed when he told us that the gull which landed on Captain Rickenbacker's head was really scrawny and small!

With Christmas drawing near, this was truly the season for happiness, with simple, beloved ceremonies of tree-trimming, gift wrapping, laughter, and light heartedness. This was the happiest holiday season in five years, with the great gift of Peace.

COMMENCEMENT COMMITTEE

Kathleen Keeley, Paul Neumann, Jack Dunn, Alice Nilles, James Runniger, Everett Thalhammer, Sally Biltgen, Robert Buckardt

Way back in the dim, dark past, when our parents went to school, the little red school house was simply a place to store the three 'R's'. Not so today when school work also includes pleasure. Today if the three "R's" themselves hadn't been pepped up, they would have been lost in the sea of extra activities known as ORGANIZATIONS.

Yes, it's really true that it is the extra things that make school fun. If you're one who demands "fer instances," here are only a few: Band, Glee Club, Spec, Auroran, Drama, Debate, and Delphi. Think what it would be like to have an activity program that wasn't good and consistent enough to warrant activity tickets.

Let us all give a cheer for those who make them a tangible instead of a would-be. Thanks school board, thanks Mr. Walters and Mr. Waldo, thanks teachers!

Please realize that E A H S. wouldn't be half the interesting place it is without these things that haven't always been. How boringly quiet it would be without the gun club or the gleeful glee clubsters. How every-dayish to have the attic simply a place to store and-so-forths.

Turn the page, man, you're blinkin' your eyes for naught. Turn the page, turn the page.

Say! Wait a minute, there's yet more to be said. Before you go, look below at our smooth blues room.

Speculum

Assisting the Speculum editors with their work were M. Howard, J. Sennett, and K. Keeley.

The Speculum editors were (back row) D. Eberhart, M. Mueller, K. Wideman • E. Thon, G. Weber, A. Clawson

Back Row: S. Furt, M. Gaddner, J. Grouner, M. Howard • E. Lye, D. Cummings, K. Wideman • R. Dover, A. Davis, M. J. Woodward, D. Gerkin, F. Lindstrom • K. Keeley, M. Mueller, A. Keeley • J. Ruppinger, G. Morgan, J. Lippold, D. Eberhart, D. Steichen • J. Douglas, L. Jurgelson, J. Sennett, D. Ernst • M. Jensen, E. Thon • Not in picture—G. Weber, J. Letherman

Anyone on the Spec Staff can tell you that, if the Greeks have a word for what we went through getting this 1916 annual out, that word was definitely not "easy."

Here's a rough idea of what it takes. Picture taking—pasting to make a "lay"—rushing to get ready for the photo-engraver—editorial material—forms into room 122—rewriting—proof reading—changing layouts to meet our prices—really those were nightmarish days.

Thus the staff experiences all the headaches possible in producing this E.A.H.S. annual—here it is! It's our baby.

"Stage Door"

Jr. Class Play

Take the hopes and ambitions of sixteen young women, throw in a few movie producers, and sprinkle lightly with a few men; altogether this recipe mixes up to a really delightful plot for the play, "Stage Door"

The central plot of "Stage Door" dealt with the trouble that courageous Terry Randall had in getting her start on the stage. It has a happy ending with Terry a successful actress

Taking part in the production were thirty-four juniors. With Miss Gladys Hughes directing them these fellows and gals gave out with a really top performance

"Kind Lady"

Sr. Class Play

The Cast

Mary Herries	Delores Cierkin
Mr. Foster	Bill Witter
Lacy Weston	Anne Seech
Rose	Shirley Davidson
Phyllis Glenning	Delores Cummu
Peter Sanford	Jerry Hawking
Henry Abbott	Jim Runninget
Ada	Doris Hansen
Doctor	Dick Coddington
Mr. Edwards	George Weber
Mrs. Edwards	Annette Keeley
Aggie Edwards	Joanne Sennett
Gustav Rosenberg	John Coffey

'Kind Lady' was not a hit-miss production, it was a comfortable vehicle for all members of the cast who did a remarkably good job. Actually, this is no surprise; didn't their director, Miss Hughes, and many of the cast do a bang up job last year?

The story tells how an aristocratic middle age woman was gradually surrounded by clever crooks. Her family and friends were alienated from her, and she was practically driven insane. With a supreme amount of courage, she managed to right the situation.

DEBATE

We should have one year of compulsory military training." These words have been heard ringing forth from Room 201 almost any day during the debate season. The debaters, coached by the capable Miss Dorothy Youngblood, had a heavy schedule, but met it with the fighting virtue of East Aurora.

Almost always finishing better than average, two of the highlights of the season were taking fifth place among twenty-six teams at the Augustana College debate tournament, and placing third in the Big-Eight Debate Conference.

The members of the varsity team were Elaine Brecke and Don Ernst on the affirmative with Jack Mitchell as alternate; Mary Howard and Eugene Lye on the negative with Therese Worland as alternate.

In the Big-Eight Debate Conference, Don Ernst placed first in extemporaneous speaking and Eugene Lye took fourth in the original oration contest.

In addition to preparing the main teams for debating meets, Miss Youngblood taught the newer and inexperienced debaters the fundamentals they will need to know for future work on the squad.

Jr. Delphi

Mr. Chairman, I move that we install venetian blinds at the athletic field after Senior Delphi has it glassed in, so the sun won't melt the rubber track we have just voted on to replace the cinder track.

This is an example of how Junior Delphi teaches parliamentary drill. Speeches are scheduled for each meeting but sometimes a debate arises such as this one. Since clouds would form in the glass dome and rain would fall, it was also moved that the Coast Guard be hired once a week to rescue players drowning in the accumulated water. (The motion was not carried.)

Sr. Delphi

Rap, Rap! "Senator from Pennsylvania is out of order!"

Senior Delphi is in session again, so you can expect almost anything! If the meeting isn't lost in a filibuster, some good debates may be heard, such as the three-day argument on whether officers should be initiated or not. One of their favorite debates was on the subject, "Is it better to be a big frog in a little puddle or a little frog in a big puddle."

In the more serious moments the members learn the more technical procedures of parliamentary drill, such as amending a law, and review the already familiar points

Girls' Club

"Do you think we have enough cookies for the tea?" "I like the blue bows best, don't you?"—

What are you going to wear to the spring dance?" These and various other tidbits of conversation drifted through the cheerful atmosphere of the Girls' Club room during the year '45-'46.

This club not only extends a helping hand to all East High girls, but it also undertakes activities for the benefit of the entire student body.

Girls' Club officers for the first semester were A. Nilles, president; A. Keeley, vice-president; and I. Dix, secretary.

The spring dance with its gay decorations, lively music, and lasses in perky cotton dresses was one of the club's enterprises.

Bow Week also has an important place on the Girls' Club calendar. Red, green, yellow, and blue bows may be seen anywhere during Bow Week, a traditional custom at East High.

The little "freshie" girls were not entirely forgotten in the club's busy schedule. They were honored with two super parties, both teas, one in October and the other in February.

Officers for the second semester shown at the right were M. Kellett, secretary; N. Augustine, president; M. Kennedy, vice-president.

Boys' Club

No, it wasn't a statue sitting at the table in the room at the end of the hall every eighth hour. It was just Irvin Mode and the room was the Boys' Club room. The room was usually filled with the murmur of the boys who congregate there at all times during the day.

The club started the year off with a party in October for all East High boys.

Officers during the first semester were J. Baker, president; A. Johnson, vice-president; J. Chiles, secretary; and M. Kenworthy, sergeant at arms. They lead the Boys' Club with the assistance of J. I. Hunter.

During the second semester, another party was sponsored to acquaint the freshmen boys with the Boys' Club. At the party the boys saw movies and participated in boxing and wrestling matches.

Highlighting the season's activities was a talk by Ray Elliot, head football coach at the University of Illinois. He spoke to the entire student body during a special convocation.

Dimmed

It is fifth hour and students are dashing wildly to their seats in the auditorium so that Kay Wideman won't mark them absent when she takes roll. In these next forty minutes Miss Lulu Bredlow instructs them on stage etiquette.

What does stage etiquette include? The students carefully walking around with books on their heads are developing poise and posture, while the students speaking over the "mike" are adapting their voices to stage acoustics. During a semester groups write, direct, and produce plays to be given before the other members of the class. Oh, yes and spontaneous pantomiming is not unusual in a drama session.

Every month Joanne Sennett reviews the current Chicago stage shows; in the spring, a trip is made to Chicago to attend a legitimate stage play.

Our head boss, Lulu Bredlow, is admired and respected by all. Her conscientious efforts, her sense of humor, and her teaching technique are recognized by all who work with her. Her ability to work with students accomplishes great tasks as shown by "The Editor's Dream", Dickens' "Christmas Carol", the spring card party, and several P.T.A. meetings.

Lights

It's only ten minutes until curtain time. Let us take those ten minutes to go back stage and see the drama class in action.

Paul Neumann is adjusting the baby spots while Dean Miller and Don Ernst are putting the final touches on the scenery. The stage crew has control over all equipment used in the auditorium for plays, convos, P.T.A. meetings, and all outside activities.

Hurrying over to the left wing we find Eva Thon assisting the players with their costumes. Eva is responsible for all costumes used in any school production. Joan Eby lends a helping hand as her assistant.

One player needs a black eye and whom does she run to? You have guessed it—Kathy Keeley and her make-up crew. Serving as her assistants are Sallie Huston and Jo Ann Sennett. Lipstick and powder are their weapons!

Moving back onto the stage we come across Charm Milton mending a tear in a drape. This is just one of the various jobs for Charm and her maintenance crew, who also clean up before and after the use of the stage.

Rushing hither and yon, Miss Bredlow instructs all crews in a final check-up.

Everything ready? On stage! Lights! Curtain!

Beta Girl Reserves

The first and third Tuesdays of each month find East High's freshmen and sophomore girls tripping down to the "Y W." for their Girl Reserve meetings. The gals in charge were G. Chisman, J. Draper, S. Smely (seated on chairs), and D. Terebessy, J. Wise, O. Olsen, M. Rohr, J. Burkel.

This year's activities included a carnival with a wonderful fortune teller; lectures on personality, fashions, and clothes; picnics, penny suppers, and holiday parties.

Alpha Girl Reserves

"Girls, stop your gossiping. The meeting is called to order." Thus Charm Milton, Alpha president, opened another meeting, while Annette Keeley prepared to read the secretary's report. The officers pictured to the left were J. Johnson, C. Metzler, J. Dennett, K. Keeley, C. Milton, S. Huston, A. Keeley.

Interesting activities—the Mother-Daughter tea, the Father-Daughter banquet, a spring formal, informal dances, and parties were the highlights of the year.

Hi-Y

"Hey, Jim, what's going on at Hi-Y tonight? Will you be there?"

Both East High junior and senior Y. M. C. A. chapters are under the leadership of Hubert Davis. Each chapter presents programs throughout the year ranging from the latest football films to timely lectures.

The Hi-Y officers were (back row) G. Cusic, D. Jacobson, R. Groot, P. Ruddy • J. Miller, B. Buckley, R. Bockman. In their programs for the year the club had four main features: basketball contests between clubs, the Northern Illinois Conference for older boys of Hi-Y, the Mother-Son Banquet, and the Hi-Y dance.

Junior Red Cross

Flash! The American Red Cross now has branch offices located in the schools of America. They are the American Junior Red Cross organizations, founded in 1917, whose fine work augments that of its senior partner.

Right here at East High, with the help of Miss Dortha Pooley, Miss Jessie Shirley, and Mr. Raymond Burgett, all kinds of recreational articles have been made. This includes aprons, pie pans, pocket squares, cork slippers, lamp shades, checker boards, and other games; afghans, bedroom screens, and many other useful things.

Here are orchids to their splendid work!

Wave the Flag

Wave the flag of East Aurora,
The Red and black so grand,
Ever shall our teams be victors
Known throughout the land
With the championship before them
Without a fear they'll stand
Wave again that dear old banner,
For they're heroes, every man

Look out, Rescue Squad! Drop the baton! Come on, Miss Hutchins, to the rescue! All kidding aside, girls, much credit goes to you for the swell job you have done

Band

The band is a group of students who play instruments and sing. They are led by Mr. [Name] and are a very important part of the school. They perform at many events and are a great source of pride for the school.

Navy Gift

The Navy Gift is a special gift given to the band. It is a gift of appreciation for the band's hard work and dedication. The gift is given by the Navy and is a very special honor for the band.

Chorus

Do you want a musical treat? Then listen to our chorus of thirty voices who this year worked with the A Cappella Choir on many projects. Good singing provides the best citizenship, the necessary qualities of reliability, co-operation, and ability to work under direction are developed.

All these things and more are accomplished by Miss Margaret Pous with her singing groups.

Singing in a large high school chorus is an enjoyable and instructive experience in which you should participate.

Won't you join us?

"The Editor's Dream"

With a loud crash, a bang and a cry, "Order! Order!", the curtain falls on the finale of the 1946 Auroran variety show.

Have you ever had such a terrific longing for something that the idea took shape in the form of a realistic dream? No? Well, this was the new and entirely different theme developed by student writers into a truly unique production, "The Editor's Dream". Credit goes to everyone of them for writing the original script.

The "Dream" was "put together" by its director, Miss Lulu Bredlow, who was assisted by several Auroran editors and drama members. Although ill with laryngitis, Miss "B" kept right on "dreaming it up".

Taking charge of the business details of any production is no easy task, but Ralph Blackman, Auroran advisor, handled them very efficiently.

Included in the show was a scene where the perfect paper was sold; a portrayal of a want ad department; views of the social, sports, foreign news, and music sections of a newspaper.

As all dreams are not easy sailing, the traditional printer's devil teased and tempted the editor.

The main attraction was the Chinese Play, representing foreign news. This was the debut of the Chinese style of presenting a play. The all girl cast did a really top-notch job.

Other outstanding performances were given by a five girl dancing chorus, a dancer and comedian, a monologist, and dancing partners.

Even in extraordinary dreams, one never could imagine such colorful scenery as was used in "The Editor's Dream."

But as all dreams do, this surrealistic one also had to end, as the editor vainly tries to grasp the perfect make-up.

Cheers for our Director

Athletic director Roy E. Davis is a very important man in East High's athletic department. His duties consist of arranging game schedules, appointing officials, issuing equipment, arranging transportation, and overseeing the athletic field. For many years he has accepted and ably performed these duties.

Coaches Joe Maze and Cliff Roberts overcame handicaps of injured players and lightweight boys, and together shaped a team deserving of our praise.

The most uproaring game of the season was the Turkey Day clash. The Tomcats, clad in red flannels, took a 6 to 0 win over West High, scoring their third consecutive Thanksgiving Day win; thus they gained permanent possession of the Exchange Club trophy.

Tomcats!

The boys deserve recognition for their teamwork in the fifty third Thanksgiving Day game. Credit goes to Captain Mode for keeping high the morale of the boys, to Selander for blocking West's kick, and to Tesch who made the winning touchdown.

The combination of rain, snow, and freezing weather made the field a glaze of ice, but Coach Maze's strategy, borrowed from the Pro Football League, helped turn the tide against our cross-town rivals. Before the game both teams were clad in football brogans but, when the Tomcats received their last minute instructions, they donned tennis shoes which gave the boys the necessary traction to defend their lead.

Kittens

Although the Frosh-Soph football team, coached by Aaron Albright (top left) and John Mouw (lower left) won only one game this season, they displayed a great deal of spirit on the field and were in there pitching till the final whistle

The Kittens were really blooming that Friday night when East beat Bloom 7-6. You see the real reason they just had to win was because the boys needed hair-cuts. It seems that this team took an oath not to get hair-cuts until they won their first game of the season. The barbers of Aurora were busy for days!

Fight !

The Freshmen football squad, coached by Roger Stutz (to the right), played seven grueling games this season, three with West High, and two each with Marmion and Joliet. Though short on victories, the Kittens worked hard and will be of great value to the Fresh Soph team of next year.

We'll have to admit that the yearlings were not All-American, but in the long run it's teamwork that counts. By giving their opponents tough opposition, the Kittens proved that they were no push-over. Before each game, the players got in a huddle and elected a captain; Harold Rosensteel gained the recognition of this post the greatest number of times.

We'll be seeing more of you next year, fellows.

That's The Spirit

Last High's top performance this year was a thrilling 54 to 48 victory over Elgin, who was currently leading the Big Eight Conference. This was the highlight of a rather discouraging season in which the Tomcats won four games and lost fifteen. After rallying to a decisive victory over Downers Grove, their first conference win was against West Rockford; the following night they returned home to defeat Hinsdale.

Though it was not a successful season, the team, composed of Juniors, will be back to threaten the Big Eight contenders next year.

Then we have the Jay Vee's, also coached by Cecil May. They acquired an impressive record by winning eight games and losing only three. Don't you agree that this is a good record for the first year of Junior Varsity play?

The Frosh-Soph this year compiled a creditable record, although handicapped by the loss of five regulars, who moved up to the Varsity. Cliff Robert (to the right) coached the team this year and molded them into varsity material.

While greatly handicapped by lack of height, the Freshmen team made up for it with their fighting determination and good ball handling.

There you have it, the basketball year at East!

Track

The graceful leap of a high jumper, or the breathless speed of a runner in a yard dash, the endurance of the miler, the strength behind a shot put—these are but a few thrills to be seen at any East High track meet. Unlike most other sports, track depends upon individual skill rather than the usual teamwork.

The outlook for the track team this year wasn't very hopeful at first, but Coach Cliff Robert has seen many of his track kids develop into better than average material.

Instead of opening the season with the traditional Oak Park Regatta, East's tracksters competed in meets at the North Central Field House against such teams as Naperville, Wheaton, Hinsdale, York, and Downers Grove.

These meets, which were held once a week during the indoor season, prepared the boys for outdoor competition.

Later in the year the E. A. H. S. athletic field was the scene of practice for the Red and Black outdoor track men, who elected Jim Neil as captain for the season.

Players this year were E. Thalhammer, R. Crabel, D. Miller.

C. Host, J. Stuart, R. Pooley, J. Spoden, B. Mende, D. Larson, and D. Bretthauer composed this year's team.

Tennis

"What's the score?"

"Six love!"

"Whose serve?"

Naturally, these are the tennis boys talking it over before some big meet. They played matches with West High, Joliet, Elgin, and Marmion. The climax of the season was the district meet and the conference meet.

Golf

"Fore!"

There is that champ golf team teeing off on the green! The boys were busy during the season, usually averaging two meets a week with teams including Elgin, Joliet, West High, and LaGrange, and of course that all important conference meet held at Rockford.

Intramural Basketball

Senior League Champions, Miss Bredlow's section, were E. Lye, D. Larson, V. Myer, J. Coffee, D. Miller, J. Kuk

All boys have a chance to participate in East High athletics; this school-wide program is made possible by Intramural Basketball. Under the direction of Mr. D. Brown, a round-robin tournament was held during the noon hours

Games in the Senior League were filled with excitement, hard playing and rivalry. The champion of all senior and last half junior sections was Miss Bredlow's section, winners last year also.

Officials were D. Little, J. Watson, J. Curry, J. Hawking, J. Molnar, D. Schmars

The Junior League tournament included sophomore and junior sections, while the Freshman League was composed of freshmen only. The champions of both these leagues are sure to be out next year to try and capture more titles

Mr. Brown has tried to stress to the boys that team work and clean sportsmanship are required for the success of the league. This year his teachings have plainly been shown

The Girls' Athletic Association is state-wide and it not only provides fun for the girls but also makes healthful living easy for them through its health rules. Any girl who desires to earn points, files a record with the point secretary. By observing all good health rules, such as eight hours sleep, the proper food, and adequate exercises, one may earn points toward G. A. A. awards.

The Girls' Athletic Association has been under the well-directed leadership of Miss Mardelle Mohn. She has given the girls a well balanced athletic program throughout the year.

Come on, girls, we'll be late for the meeting!

I shall always remember the boys and girls of East High with great satisfaction. During my tenure as principal, I have known thousands of students and I can sincerely say that the vast majority of them have been fine citizens. Their cooperation with me has been splendid and I shall be grateful all my life. May I extend to the present student body, as well as to the alumni, my very best wishes for a happy and useful life.

Good luck to East High!

"A" Awarded to "O.V."

"Mr. Walters, your efforts to justify the existence of athletics as a part of the educational program in East High School for the past eighteen years have made you worthy of this honor. For your diligence in promoting the fine features of athletic competition and your insistence of placing the welfare of the boys above the desire to win, I have the honor to present to you an official award letter of East High School.

"Remembering the high ideals you have always advocated, you must now remember that you represent East High wherever you go and any misdemeanor on your part will bring discredit to East High. Furthermore, if you should wear this letter you must first get in physical condition and abide by the training rules laid down for all winners of award letters.

"So with both our compliments and our thanks, I present to you this 'A'."

"Thank you, Mr. Davis, this is an honor I shall cherish all my life. I feel that it is an honor for any one to wear an East High athletic letter. It stands for honor, character, and manhood. It is a symbol of sportsmanship and good character. It is a constant reminder to the wearer that he represents the best in good clean living. I shall try my best to be worthy of this honor.

"As for regaining my athletic figure, that shouldn't be hard to do out West where men are men, and everyone supposedly travels by horseback. At least I thought men were men and chivalry still reigned. On a recent visit to Colorado, I became engaged in a conversation with a rugged Western character. Inevitably the conversation turned to women. I expressed the idea that by reasoning with women you could usually get them to make a success of any project. The Westerner replied that out in the wide open spaces, you don't reason with women, they tell you!

"Thank you, again!"

We all know what the "A" award which Mr. Walters received is like - our have you seen the Exchange Club trophy which the Tomcats won for our permanent possession?

Junior . . .

The Juniors are some of the busiest people in school besides the graduating seniors. Besides braving subjects such as chemistry and solid geometry, many are serving as officers in the school clubs. The class has several traditional activities. In the fall, the first on the program was a junior dance

In the spring came the junior carnival and then the class play. And of course, the juniors chose the class ring for their senior year. Soon they too will be making plans for graduation and looking back on their four years at East High

Seromokpos . . .

Here are the Sophomores, freshmen with the green worn off and almost the polish of the juniors. They don't worry so much about their studying anymore—maybe they have learned just what the teachers want. They have also discovered how much fun extra curricular activities can be

They are also helping in the school government by being active in Student Council or in Girls' or Boys' Club. It's a nice feeling being able to look down on the new freshmen instead of being looked down upon!

Nemhsarf . . . .

These are the Freshmen - these are the people who spend their first days looking for rooms in the back floor or standing where the other stairs were when they were on the front floor. If you see one of these people, you will be sure to recognize him.

He works very hard at his schoolwork and is probably trying hard to observe school rules, for he has just found out the meaning of a seventy-third day. They have all learned their way around now and are ready to sit back and laugh at the next bunch of freshmen.

To the business and professional people of Aurora, who so generously contributed the money that helped to make possible the publication of this Speculum, we the class of 1946 say "Thank you."

Ours For Keeps

Carl H. Harnett, president of the Exchange Club, presents the 1938 Thanksgiving day football trophy to Captain Erwin Moeckel and Coach L. M. Mize. Larry E. Diamond, extreme right, looks on. Fast to a permanent possession of the trophy by winning in 1938 with a 12-0 victory in football with a 14-15 win and this year with their 6-0 verdict.

But Not Forgotten . . .

We'll remember our last Christmas at East if only because of the "Christmas Carol." Miss Bredlow and her drama class really whipped this classic into fine shape and Scrooge ruled supreme the afternoon of December 21.

Happy New Year, everyone!

We like the sound of 1946, our year. Now vacation is over and a new semester, our last at E A H S., is before us.

Ah, yes, another semester here already. We were casual about it all, but most of us felt a tightening in our throats as we realized that this was to be the last stretch.

The Student Council was really in the groove again this semester with three more assembly programs. J. P. Robertson journeyed to our school with his curious instruments of long, long ago. When Jesse Rae Taylor visited here, she portrayed characters of all types and ages. Besides changing make-up before our eyes, she made literary figures live again. Piero Pierotic was superb in his interpretation of Rigoletto and was definitely solid in his presentation of popular songs.

Basketball season ended in March, not too victoriously, we'll admit, but you can't win every year! Track soon followed; you know, we like this sport more and more each year.

"The Editor's Dream" was next on our calendar of events. The production, sponsored by the Auroran and directed by Miss Bredlow, was really on the different side. The performance was smooth and polished, as always. To have clowns, athletes, Chinamen, dancers and singers all in one dream may seem fantastic, but it is possible.

On March 30, we Seniors tripped to the music of the last dance we would sponsor as East High students. The committee members really did a bang-up job in arranging this really super dance.

"Dean Hunter, may I be excused?" But it isn't the dear Dean - it's one of our classmates! Don't you see, it's Student Day.

The Juniors had their play next and we'll have to admit that it was good. They probably will make good seniors! Their Carnival followed and that was a success also.

Suddenly, it was here! Our time had come. Our retiring principal, O. V. Walters, addressed the Senior Class for the last time at Baccalaureate services.

Graduation came off just as we had dreamed it would. With diplomas gripped tightly in our hands we stepped off the platform. Our minds were busy with future plans, but many tears were shed when we stopped to think that our carefree days were over.

Think of us sometime, East—we'll miss you lots!
